

Surfaces and Textures of Erith

A collection of research gathered by the Students of Unit 15 (Assemble & the GLA)

Design preparation for BDP & Bexley Council for Erith

Casts 1:1

Erith's Tramway Tracks, carefully reserved as a reminder of the towns industrial heritage.

Casts 1:1

Historic glazed tiles found on the Europa estate, poking through previous attempts at their concealment.

Casts 1:1

The riverside gardens, cherished by many, slowly begin to fade. Here the loose herringbone bricks have begun to be replaced by black tarmac.

Casts 1:1

The riverside gardens, cherished by many, slowly begin to fade. Here the loose herringbone bricks have begun to be replaced by black tarmac.

Casts 1:1

A turntable imagined to create a sense of heritage on the pier

Casts 1:1
Remaining timber framed Industrial building, with its corrugated cladding

Casts 1:1

Historic masonry here has been thoughtfully and carefully reproduced

Casts 1:1
Earth Core columns designed for Erith reflecting the layers of earth and passing of time